With IntelliOffice, you get desktop-to-cloud managed office services, including installation, ongoing management, maintenance, and support for all hardware, software, and cloud networking elements. All you have to add is power.

Eliminate IT Network Challenges

IntelliOffice eliminates the challenge of selecting, configuring, deploying, and managing the right combination of hardware and software required to get your business operating efficiently. As your virtual IT department, our experienced team of experts partners with you to create a custom desktop-to-cloud network solution designed from the ground up to improve the flow of your critical business information and enhance your business processes, productivity, and performance.

To make sure you get a network optimized for your organization, we analyze your current network and business environment. We select the hardware and software that will best meet your requirements, including desktop and notebook computers, servers, network switches, backup systems, firewalls, and workgroup applications. We preconfigure and integrate all elements and test the new network in our lab to ensure the end-to-end solution is operating at peak efficiency. Once the network is ready, we install all elements, configure all workstations, and ensure your new IT environment is completely secure.

Beyond installation, we provide complete ongoing management, maintenance, and support of all hardware and software. This includes continuous protection of your data through regular backups

As a complete managed office service, IntelliOffice is offered on a fixed-rate, predictable monthly rate plan, which allows you to better manage cash flow by conserving your capital and buying power. Our flexible rate structure allows you to choose the IntelliOffice solution that best fits your needs and your budget.
